We grow up young and then don’t want to get old We only crave the warmth when it starts to get cold
We always say hello
But forget the goodbye
We always expect what we want
But are too afraid to try
We know there are seasons,
But we fear change
Maybe that’s an excuse
To just remain the same

-Afraid of Change

I grow through life seeing all these faces
I grow old as I’m going through places.
I can’t believe how far I’ve come I take every day as a journey it’s my life,
this is my story when the day has done the next day a new chapter has begun

-New Beginnings

I must like the heat if I continue to play with fire
Why is it the heart breakers that my heart desires I try not to listen what other people say
But the conversations in my head are stuck on replay

-Playing with fire

We say we're boring people but I know that's not true my soul runs deep but I'm too afraid to show it to you
I like that you listen
I don't want that to change late night conversations are still running through my brain sometime I want to tell you how I feel but I can't take anymore heartbreak as there's pieces of me that will never heal but being around you is like dreaming while awake I can't help but smile it's the best part of my night I look forward to it every week even if it's only a brief time

-Late Night Conversations

My funds are low
My debts are high
Had to sell my soul
Just to survive
Living in this world
I feel like I'm losing my mind

They say everything you've been through Will only make you strong
But it made me tired
I've been here for so long
Don't want to stay
Theres no where to go
I say I'm okay
But nobody knows

Losing myself bit by bit Hanging on
I just wanna quit
But I'll keep on fighting
Because that's what I have to do
Everyone makes my life about them
So why don't I, too.
I don't live for myself
So what is there left to prove?

-Sold My Soul

I feel like I'm dying inside
I'm stuck here because I am kind I think morality can make people blind
If I stop being nice,
I think I'll be fine
I should just start taking what isn't mine
The rich are strong
The poor are weak
Because the rich does wrong
As the poor stay in poverty
The rich buy big houses, yachts and anything they're able while we struggle to put food on our tables

-A note from the poor

3am and still awake
Exhausted from self hate Far from who I want to be
And nothing comes easily
And I don’t feel like being strong They say cry it out it won’t last long
I don’t think it’s going to get any better
When my life doesn’t seem to matter
So how do I fix the thoughts inside my head
How do I find the urge to get out of bed
How do I release this anxiety
Who do I ask for help in finding sobriety
From hating myself

-Late night thoughts

They say you have to love yourself before you can love somebody else but I don’t think that’s true because I don’t think I’ll ever love me the way I love you

-or so I thought

I know you never meant to hurt me
You were just unavailable emotionally
I love you
I wanted to hear it for so long
But once you said it
My heart was already gone
I not putting you with all the blame
Our differences went up in flames

-Not meant to be

I want to be loved yet I push it away
In the chaos of my thoughts,
I often loose my way
I long for peace, but invite the storm
In the warmth of the sun,
I still feel alone

-I want to be loved

Chemistry between us is there
Sparks through my entire body Whenever you are near
A connection so electric,
It is so clear
That everything we're feeling
Is so real
I see my future in your eyes
Forever comes to mind
Our love is only going to grow
Don't worry about beau
I'll love him as my own

-Falling in Love

"I love you"
Is what I hear
"I'll leave you"
Is what I fear
But deep inside
I know you're intentions are true
It's not that I don't feel it I'm just not ready to say it too.

-Don't Leave Me

I just want you to be completely mine
So please be patient,
I will be all yours in time
I promise
I'll give you my heart Together
we'll create a love that's art
With each passing day, our bond will grow
And my love for you, it will surely show
So let's be patient as we take this journey
For in the end, our love will be worthy

-Waiting for you

Through the storm
You've been my sun
Through your light
My fears are undone
With ever stride
You paint my life better
Adding hues of happiness
Through every weather
You are a masterpiece
A work of art
You bring color,
To the canvas of my heart
I'm your gap in the clouds
You are my light
Making everything brighter
With your beautiful mind

-My Masterpiece

I feel guilty for moving onto too soon,
My heart is broken,
But you're healing
every wound,
With every touch,
every whispered tune,
In your arms,
I find my moon.
Three months will fly by I've been waiting for you all my life
In your embrace,
I'll find my peace,
With you, my sorrows cease.

-I've been waiting for you

I wasn't expecting you
You caught me by surprise
But now that you're here
I can't help but feel alive
Your presence is a gift
That I never want to lose
In your eyes, I see a future Filled with adventure and endless hues

-Wasn't expect you

In the depths of despair, where shadows reside,
A place of refuge, where shatter souls collide Within these walls, a psych unit stands,
Offering hope and healing hands.
In this space,
Acceptance and understanding, forevermore.
Because of him
we came together with open hearts Who would've thought that this is where our family starts
Where broken spirits find solace and care,
A sanctuary of empathy, beyond compare.
We'll always have the psych unit here.
Where we found a bond so rare

-Bonded for life

I am the sunrise
The point where darkness meets the light
I am the horizon, where the Earth kisses the sky
I am the gentle breeze,
On a cool summer night
I am the silent whisper of the stars, sharing secrets with the universe in flight

-Self Love

An artist with delicate hands
Building mountains out of sand
Bleeding dreams in this foreign land
Purgatory has took over
And everything is Gray
In the mist of all this chaos,
I know you'll find your way Creating color, to keep darkness at its bay

-The Painter

I must be insane to chase love after all the pain
When am I gonna learn that love is just a game we pick, we choose, we win and we lose but the outcome is all the same.
Love may be a game,
But I don't have to play.
I can find happiness,
In my own unique way.
So I'll learn from the past,
And let go of the pain.
I'll find peace within,
And break free from this chain.
Because love may come,
Or it may never be.
But I'll find contentment,
And set my heart free.

-Moving on

She doesn’t wanna die
She just became careless with her life Without looking both sides when crossing the street Everything feels pointless when everybody leaves
Friends move out of state
Others no longer want to date
Her innocence was taken away at eight
Parents tend to die
And leaves her wondering why
What’s the point of being happy?
Everything leaves you to fight for your life in the tide

-Darkness

I’m sitting on the sidelines
Watching the past begins to fray,
There’s nothing I can do
While seeing everything slip away
Losing every sense of you
The deepest part of the mind, where memories reside,
A fog begins to form, a tide that's hard to bide.
Names, faces, places, all start to slide,
Like sand through fingers, they hide
Laughter, tears, moments of pride,
All slipping away,
with time as the guide

-Stuck on the Sidelines

Love is like water
It's beautiful
But it's not always clear
Sometimes it muddies up your intentions
Love is hard to grasp
You will drown
More times than you can count

Love is like a current
Sometimes
You will swim against them
Other times
It will take you out
Sometimes
Love will make you jealous
For no reason at all

Love is not a feeling
It doesn't
Just go away Always
Love, knowing you'll do anything
For the one you love

Love is self sacrifice Willingness
To give it your all
I believe
Love is like water
Without it
You won't be alive

-Love is not a feeling

I used to be in control
But now you control me
I am a puppet
You pull all the strings
I tried to fight you
But you're just too strong
I like it when you leave
But you never stay gone
The voice inside my head
Telling me my needs
"You'll be fine
You don't need to eat"
So I eat enough
To stay alive
But I have the fear
That you won't leave Until I die

-My dear friend, Ana Rex Sia

Trying to fix a broken heart
Is like trying to put a puzzle
Together from the inside out Nearly impossible
Trying to fix a broken soul
Is like trying to breathe underwater
Suffocating

-broken hearted

I was born into a family
So messed up
One that makes you feel like
You are never enough Porch fights every night of the week
Everyone in the trailer park
Could hear the screams

The cops got called
And we got taken away
My two sisters, two brother
All got separated that day
Four years old
And so scared
They put us in the system
Called Foster care
Went to six different homes
Within one year
I felt like no one wanted
Was I really that bad?
So many emotions
And I was really sad

Five years old
I went home
I thought no more being alone
But then, along came no name
He came for me whenever he got lonely
He told me
He loved me and wanted to show me
That's when his fingers
Started to get nosy
I was raped and molested
Tried to stay quiet
But I couldn't accept this
I knew it was wrong
I was trying to stay strong
I was so young
And it happened for so long

Eight years old
I was still scared
I tried to tell my mom
But she didn't seem to care
She didn't believe me
He called me a liar
And started to beat me
My whole life flashed before my eyes
That night
I stopped trusting guys

I kept praying for a way out
Out of this house
No one could hear my

Screams or yells
One night
Everything had changed
He thought my mom was working late
So he took my sister and tried to have his way My mom walked in
And he got caught
My mom dumped him
Without another thought
She realized I never lied
But had too much pride
To even try
To apologize

Four more years
Being beaten, broken and bruised
By the one I called my mom
Because whenever she gets mad
Was like a grenade
An exploding bomb
My wishes finally came through Foster care again?
Yes, it's true
She didn't want us anymore
She chose her boyfriend
Like a whore
It was finally the end
I thought no more getting hurt
No more crying

Or feeling like dirt
I got a new family
And I didn't want to complain
But after a few years
I started going insane
Started hurting myself
Started being the blame
I thought I kept
Messing everything up
Every time I turned around
I was never enough
I certainly didn't feel blessed I kept it all in Pretending nothing was wrong
But I made it more of a mess
I tried to get it all out
By using a blade
I tried to control
The outcome of my pain
And now all I have are scars
Inside and out
They're just kind of here
But I explained everything
We would be here for years
So I'll skip to the end

There was a guy
He came into my life
We started out as friends

Then we started dating
He made me believe
In everything again
It was really alarming
Because of him
I quit cutting
I quit self harming
He’s the reason I changed
He was my love, my life, my everything
Until he cheated and lied
My trust for once again
Surely died

I felt so empty
I needed something to feel whole
So I picked up a camera
And it lit up my soul
I saw everything through a new perspective
I felt a whole new connection
To life
I won’t ever let go
Cause I’m stronger than ever
Do I regret anything?
Never.

-Never

You are my moon, that shines
Brightly on the darkest night
I am your sun painted in the sky
In the morning light
We dance like the planets
In pure bliss
Our connection deepens with every kiss
Our love is like the stars
That never loses shine
Together forever
Our souls intertwine

-pure bliss

Love, Pain & The Chaos in my Brain
